Pre-K Teacher – Nursery Division

Horace Mann Nursery Division has an immediate opening for a dynamic, experienced Pre-K teacher. The ideal candidate must have experience with young children and a passion for inquiry-based exploration and hands-on learning. Candidates must have a knowledge of emergent curriculum, Reggio Emilia philosophy, and three years teaching experience. Master's degree is preferred.

Horace Mann School is a coeducational, college preparatory independent day school for students from Nursery through grade 12. The School seeks to stretch the imagination, intellect and insight of its students while developing the moral characteristics that impart identity and purpose. We recognize as our core values: the Life of the Mind, Mature Behavior, Mutual Respect, a Secure and Healthful Environment, and a Balance between Individual Achievement and a Caring Community. These core values guide our decision-making and govern the implementation of our curriculum and programs across all divisions of Horace Mann School. In addition to its campuses in Manhattan and the Bronx, NY, the School also owns and maintains the John Dorr Nature Laboratory, a comprehensive outdoor education facility on 304 largely wooded acres in Washington, CT. One of the nation's 10 largest independent day schools, as of September, 2020, the School enrolls 1,801 students representing 154 zip codes, with 44% self-identified students of color. For 2020-21, 15% of the students receive need-based Financial Aid. Thirty-one percent of School administrators, teachers and staff members identify as people of color. Over the past five years, the School has recorded a 97% annual retention rate for students and a 92% retention rate for all employees. The school's recent $100 million bricks and mortar campaign has provided the Middle and Upper Divisions with newly constructed and renovated state of the art science and physical education facilities.

The Nursery Division is a warm, nurturing environment where children explore, discover and investigate. As a Reggio Emilia inspired program, we are child-centered and our curriculum is emergent. We value intellectual curiosity, problem-solving and foster social-emotional development with an active learning approach. The Nursery Division is located in Manhattan, on the Upper East Side, a short walk from Central Park.

Interested candidates should submit a detailed resume, including all teaching and non-teaching related experience and cover letter to: employment@horacemann.org.
