Class of 2023

From: Bronx, NY

First year at HM: 9th Grade

Favorite Classes: It's difficult to choose, especially from the classes you get to choose from junior and senior year, but two of my favorite classes are Intro to Psychology and Studies in Psychology. Ms. Flatto is an amazing teacher and the range of topics we cover in class are fascinating. Another one of my favorite classes was Global Environmental history, although challenging, this class really re-shaped how I viewed history and how it's told.

Why HM?: The people, both faculty and students have an inspiring dedication to the work they do. HM students love to learn, you are always surrounded by people equally invested in learning. The teachers at HM are always open to meeting with students and are invested in their students.

Favorite School Trip: While I am not the most athletic some of my favorite memories from last year were from managing a sport. Last spring, I managed the ultimate frisbee team and going with the team to away games was not only a lot of fun, but also allowed me to connect with people in other grades.

Most Underrated Thing About HM: The art gallery in Fisher. By far the most underrated thing at HM is the student art gallery in Fisher. Every two or so months the student art gallery is given a new theme or medium and students can submit artwork to the gallery either done in class or on their own time. Being able to see the creativity and work of others in the gallery is always inspiring and fun. Occasionally the gallery will have interactive activities where you go in and make artwork, anyone can go in and participate in these even if you don't take an art course. At one-point last year the gallery had an interactive glow in the dark theme and students could go in and paint, draw, or create something with glow in the dark materials.
