Theatre Teacher – Upper and Middle Divisions

The Theatre, Dance & Film Studies Department seeks a dynamic, enthusiastic, and experienced educator to fill the position of Theatre Teacher. Through academic and studio classes as well as productions, the Theatre Department is committed to instructing students in disciplined habits, collaborative skills, humor, and empathy as valued tools for living a full life.

Teaching responsibilities include UD Acting; UD Playwriting and Production; UD Performance Workshop; MD Theatre. The candidate will direct one MD or UD Musical or Play per school year. This person will show a willingness to collaborate, and assist in the production of MD and UD shows. The successful candidate will demonstrate an interest in participating in the life of the theatre department, and more broadly the life of the school. Bachelor's degree required; Master's degree in Educational Theatre preferred.

Horace Mann School is a coeducational, college preparatory independent day school for students from Nursery through grade 12. The School seeks to stretch the imagination, intellect and insight of its students while developing the moral characteristics that impart identity and purpose. We recognize as our core values: the Life of the Mind, Mature Behavior, Mutual Respect, a Secure and Healthful Environment, and a Balance between Individual Achievement and a Caring Community. These core values guide our decision-making and govern the implementation of our curriculum and programs across all divisions of Horace Mann School. In addition to its campuses in Manhattan and the Bronx, NY, the School also owns and maintains the John Dorr Nature Laboratory, a comprehensive outdoor education facility on 305 largely wooded acres in Washington, CT. One of the nation's 10 largest independent day schools, as of September, 2017, the School enrolls 1,791 students representing 152 zip codes, with 40% self-identified students of color. For 2017-18, 15% of the students receive need-based Financial Aid. Twenty-two percent of School administrators, teachers and staff members identify as people of color. Over the past five years, the School has recorded a 97% annual retention rate for students and a 92% retention rate for all employees. The school's current $100 million bricks and mortar campaign will provide the Middle and Upper Divisions with either newly constructed or renovated, state of the art science facilities by the beginning of the Fall of 2018.

Interested candidates should submit (preferably as a single PDF document): 1) a detailed resume, including all teaching and non-teaching related experience; and 2) a personal statement to: employment@horacemann.org.
