For Fall recruitment round

Your experience can open a door for our College-Aged Alumni and Upper Division Students.

For 30 years, Horace Mann School parents, alumni, and friends have opened professional doors for our College-Aged Alumni and Upper Division Students by offering a summer internship at their firm, small business, or organization. Participants are giving real experience and mentorship, while benefiting from the hard work and insights of our talented pool of recent and future graduates.

You define the opportunity. HM connects you with candidates.

You set the role, duration, schedule, and pay. We market the position to over 725 college-aged alumni plus an additional 725 current HM students. Once you have received and reviewed the applications, there is no obligation to hire if you do not see a good fit.

PREVIOUS FIELDS HAVE INCLUDED:

Technology · Law · Medicine & Healthcare · Finance · Publishing · Media · Theater · Fashion · Public Relations · Government · Real Estate · Research · Nonprofits · Entrepreneurship · Other

INDEPENDENT JOB POSTINGS

HM Handles the Logistics

If your company does not have a formal program but you would like to hire an HM intern, the Alumni and Development Office will post and market your position, collect and sort all of the resumes and applications, and send you one package of qualified applicants to review.

CORPORATE JOB POSTINGS

Apply Directly Through Your Company

Does your firm already have a program and application process? Share the details and HM will make the opportunity known to our incredible alumni and eligible UD students.

MENTORSHIP

Mentor an HM Graduate or Student

If you are not able to provide an internship, consider offering a conversation about your career, advice on entering your field, or mentorship through the year.
